PHOENIX SQUARE

THE business centre of Fredericton, showing a glimpse of Queen Street on the right, and the City Hall, Normal School, Military Barracks and Post-office, in the order named, on the left.

OLD GOVERNMENT HOUSE

NOW unoccupied, built by Sir Howard Douglas in 1828. It stands on a point just above the city and commands an extended view of the River Saint John and the country about. King Edward VII was entertained here in 1860.

PARLIAMENT BUILDINGS

THESE buildings were erected in 1882, front on Parliament Square, Fredericton, and overlook the river. The buildings, Library and Museum, contain many valuable and interesting documents and specimens. The Museum contains a complete set of specimens of the wild animals and birds of the country.

WILMOT PARK

THE chief recreation ground of Fredericton, with an area of thirty acres, located at the west end of the city. This park was donated to the city, and endowed by the late Edward H. Wilmot, for many years Registrar of the University of New Brunswick.

OFFICERS SQUARE

THE official residence of the Officers in charge of the Royal Canadian Regiment of Infantry, a branch of the permanent force of Canada, stationed at Fredericton. These buildings were erected eighty years ago and are located in the centre of the city fronting upon the river.

UNIVERSITY OF NEW BRUNSWICK

UPON the hillside behind the city, was founded in 1800 by Royal Charter. Known as "Kings College" from 1825 to 1859, when it was given its present status and name. It is the head of the public school system of the Province.

ICE JAM

THIS picture shows a freshet freak of the ice run in the Saint John River in the spring of 1887, when this immense jam was piled up at the Saint Mary's end of the highway bridge. The river, filled with ice, is running bank high and over a mile wide. Fredericton shows in the distance.

NASHWAAKSIS

THE view looks out of the mouth of this beautiful stream towards Fredericton, in the distance, on the opposite side of the river. It is the summer-time-lovers'-retreat for the city.

SALMON FISHING

WIELDERS of the big two handed salmon rod whipping pool at Hartt's Island, Saint John River, near Fredericton, New Brunswick, where salmon were taken with the fly in the year 1905 for the first time. The fishing is free to all.

MARYSVILLE

THE principal suburb of Fredericton, population 2500, founded and built by Alex. Gibson, the history of whose life from a poor boy at Lepreaux, to the lumber king and chief cotton manufacturer of Eastern Canada, reads like a romance. This town contained the largest cotton mill in Canada, several lumber mills and lath and shingle mills, and is beautifully situated on the Nashwaak River three miles from Fredericton.

THE CATHEDRAL

"THE first cathedral of the English Church built since the Reformation. The first cathedral foundation on English soil since the Norman Conquest." (Very Rev. Dean Partridge.) Corner stone laid October 15, 1845, consecrated in 1853. The tower contains a chime of eight bells adopted from Trinity Church, New York, the tenor weighing 2,800 pounds.

FRENCH VILLAGE

ONE of the Indian reserves on the Saint John River. It is situated opposite the Mactnaquac Stream fourteen miles above Fredericton. The remnant of the race is shown in Corpus Christi attire.

THE NARROWS

THIS cut presents the Saint John River within two miles of the Reversible Falls at its mouth, bordered on each side by limestone hills. The farthest bluff on the right is known as "Boar's Head."

SHEFFIELD

FROM Fredericton to Sheffield, twenty miles down, the river winds through a broad intervale, among numerous islands, bordered by rows of elm and maple trees. One of the wealthiest agricultural districts in the province, first settled by British refugees in 1783.

OROMOCTO

FORMERLY a centre for lumbering and ship building, is ten miles below Fredericton, now an attractive summer resort. The river of the same name flows peacefully through twenty miles or more of scented meadow, lake and grove, where duck and deer are plentiful. For canoeing its waters are unsurpassed.

POKIOK

THIS cut shows the outfall of the stream through the "Gorge" into the River Saint John, forty miles above Fredericton. The falls are seen in the distance. The headwaters of this stream, famous for trout fishing, flow through a country of forest lands where deer, moose and bear are plentiful and wild fowl abound.

BULL'S ISLAND

ON the Saint John River a few miles below Woodstock. The cut is of a vacation canoe party on a tenting trip from Grand Falls to Fredericton, an ideal cruise, of one hundred and twenty-five miles, for a summer outing.

WOODSTOCK

THE municipal seat for Carleton County and a progressive and growing town on the River Saint John, sixty miles above Fredericton. Its chief attractions are the beauty of its location and the hospitality of its citizens

FLORENCEVILLE

SITUATED on the River Saint John, seventy-four miles above Fredericton in the centre of one of the wealthiest and most progressive agricultural districts in the province. From Woodstock up the Canadian Pacific Railway follows the River Saint John through a country of most delightful scenic beauty and charming attractiveness

TOBIQUE NARROWS

THIS is one of the famous salmon streams of the province, and leads to the great moose hunting reserves on its headquarters. The view shown is near the mouth where the river rushes through a narrow gorge for about two miles before emptying itself into the Saint John.

GRAND FALLS

ONE hundred and twenty-four miles above Fredericton. Here the River Saint John plunges over a precipice of ninety feet and rushes through a rugged gorge which seems to have been torn asunder by some convulsion of nature. The cataract and rapids are only surpassed in Canada by Niagara. From this point to Fredericton makes a delightful canoe trip.

EDMUNDSTON

THE principal town in Madawaska County, one hundred and sixty miles above Fredericton on the Canadian Pacific Railway. The cut shows the junction of the Madawaska River with the waters of the Saint John. The inhabitants of this district are largely of French descent. Salmon, trout, moose and deer.

CHATHAM

A PROSPEROUS and growing town on the Miramichi. Fish, lumber and pulp are its chief industries. Hon. J. B. Snowball, Lieutenant Governor, and Hon. L. J. Tweedie, Premier of the Province, both reside in Chatham. The Intercolonial Railway follows the Miramichi and Nashwaak rivers from Chatham to Fredericton.

"MEETING OF THE WATERS"

JUNCTION of Metapedia and Restigouche, two of the great salmon rivers of Northern New Brunswick. These with the Nepisiguit and other salmon streams are easily accessible from Fredericton.
